Hands-Free Mooring at the Locks – Winter Operation

As temperatures are expected to decrease over the next few days, mariners are advised that the following will take place effective December 19th with regards to hands free mooring at the locks.

St. Lambert lock will go back to traditional lockages with mooring wires for the remainder of the season.

Beauharnois lock 3 will go back to traditional lockages with mooring wires for the remainder of the season.

Beauharnois lock 4 will go to traditional lockages with mooring wires, but attempts to moor with the pads will still be carried out once the vessel is in position, prior to the lockage. Whether they attached or not, the units will be detached and recessed, then the lockage will proceed with wires only.
